

The Secret Behind Better Beef.

Description

When it comes to beef production, every farmer knows that not all carcasses are the same. Take a look at two common scenarios:

- One carcass is heavily covered in yellow fat. While fat can protect meat during aging, too much reduces yield and lowers the appeal for buyers who prefer lean, tender beef.
- The other carcass is much leaner with whiter fat, showing a younger, faster-growing animal. While attractive to butchers and restaurants, without the right nutrition the meat can lack flavor, marbling, and finishing quality.

So, which is the best?

ø??? The truth is, the best beef strikes a balance: tender, well-finished, healthy meat with the right fat cover and muscle structure. And this is exactly where NyamaPlusÂ® makes the difference.
